

Help Design A New Approach For Family Economic Security

Take a 10-15 minute survey to share your thoughts on how to best help families be economically secure

The Center for the Study of Social Policy (CSSP) wants to learn from families in Arizona how to strengthen the child tax credit and child care services to best support their economic security and wellbeing.

Who can participate?

We would like to hear from:

- Parents of children under the age of 18 with low to moderate income
- Parents who identify as African American, Latinx/Hispanic, Native American, Asian American strongly encouraged to participate

What are participants asked to do?

Take this 10-15 minute survey to share your thoughts on the questions below

- How has the child tax credit been helpful to you and your family?
- How could a child allowance, or guaranteed income for families, best support family economic security now and in the future?
- What supports do you need to best meet your child care needs?
- How can the supports be delivered so that it is easy for you to access?
